

1. Which tool is widely used for data visualization?

- a) Excel
- b) Power BI
- c) Tableau
- d) All of the above

Answer: d

2. What does KPI stand for?

- a) Key Performance Indicator
- b) Key Process Index
- c) Known Performance Indicator
- d) Key Product Input

Answer: a

3. Which analysis answers 'what happened in the past?'

- a) Descriptive
- b) Diagnostic
- c) Predictive
- d) Prescriptive

Answer: a

4. Which chart is best for comparing parts of a whole?

- a) Pie chart
- b) Line chart
- c) Scatter plot
- d) Histogram

Answer: a

5. What is the primary purpose of a dashboard?

- a) Summarize metrics at a glance
- b) Store raw data
- c) Run machine learning
- d) Send emails

Answer: a

6. Which function in Excel finds the average of a range?

- a) SUM
- b) AVERAGE
- c) COUNT
- d) MEDIAN

Answer: b

7. Which type of analytics forecasts future outcomes?

- a) Descriptive
- b) Diagnostic
- c) Predictive
- d) Prescriptive

Answer: c

8. What does ROI stand for?

- a) Return on Investment
- b) Rate of Income
- c) Return of Inventory
- d) Revenue on Investment

Answer: a

9. Which of these is a leading indicator?

- a) Customer satisfaction score
- b) Revenue
- c) Profit
- d) Total sales

Answer: a

10. Which visualization is best to show a trend over time?

- a) Line chart
- b) Pie chart
- c) Donut chart
- d) Treemap

Answer: a

11. Explain the difference between leading and lagging indicators with examples.

(Write your answer in the space provided.)

12. Describe how you would build a sales performance dashboard for a retail company.

(Write your answer in the space provided.)